Celebrating a Generous Gift

On Saturday 10 May, Brasenose alumni, graduate students, and Fellows gathered together to celebrate the opening of the newly-named Brademas Room, one of the rooms in the recently refurbished HCR in Old Quad, made possible thanks to a generous donation from alumnus and Honorary Fellow Professor John Brademas (BNC 1950).

The HCR moved from its previous quarters, in the old cloister next to the Deer Park, to Old Quad in 2006. The new rooms are bright, modern, and spacious, and are proving to be an excellent addition to Graduate life at BNC. In the future we hope that many more such projects can be undertaken, and that the quality of student life at BNC will go from strength to strength.

A celebratory dinner for alumni in Greece was also held on Monday 5 May, in recognition of Professor Brademas's Greek-American heritage, and his leadership in the BNC community. Economics Fellow Tony Courakis attended along with the Principal, Director of Alumni Relations and Development, and many of our Athens-based alumni.

I write these notes looking out on a damp June day. Fortunately the weather was better when we welcomed alumni and their families to the annual Eights Week Lunch, following a week of great success on the river. The women of the First and Second VIII's both got their blades, and the women of the Third Eight missed out by only one bump – quite a result I am sure you will agree. Congratulations are also due to BNC students Phil Duggleby and Stephanie Madgett who captained the University's Athletics Teams to victories over Cambridge in this year's Varsity match.

Oxford has been in the media spotlight in recent days. The University has just announced that Professor Andrew Hamilton, current Provost of Yale University, has been nominated to succeed Dr John Hood as Vice-Chancellor. Professor Hamilton has an outstanding track record of academic leadership and scholarly achievement. His pending appointment comes at a particularly exciting time for Oxford. We wish him well.

The University has recently launched Oxford Thinking: The Campaign for the University of Oxford. We are pleased that several BNC members are playing significant roles in the Campaign, with Michael Palin (1962) narrating the promotional film, and David Akers-Jones (1949), David Cameron (1985), and Robin Janvrin (1966) among the Campaign Patrons. Oxford competes with the other great universities of the world, especially those in North America, and we will face many challenges over the coming years as funding patterns change – and yet our missions to educate and to preserve and advance knowledge are as crucial as ever. It is with these challenges in mind that the University is launching its Campaign, and it will be no surprise that the central fundraising strategies will focus on support for academic posts, for facilities, and vitally for student bursaries and scholarships to ensure that access to Oxford is as wide as possible. These are themes dear to our heart at BNC and we join the other colleges in fully supporting the Campaign. We will be using our 500th anniversary to launch our own campaign – meaning that we have another year in which to lay solid foundations by consulting you, our students and alumni, with the aim of ensuring that we keep BNC among the leading colleges in Oxford and Oxford among the leading universities in the world. You can expect the pace to pick up further as we go into 2009.

Let me finally wish you all a fine and relaxing summer.

Alumni activities around the globe

The Principal and the Director of Alumni Relations and Development have been busily visiting alumni all over the globe, to update them with BNC news and to expand alumni involvement in advance of 2009.

In Hong Kong, Sir David Akers-Jones (BNC 1949) organised a dinner for alumni at the Conrad Hotel, and Tony Tyler (BNC 1974) hosted a boat trip and dinner for Brasenose alumni and representatives from the Said Business School.

In New York, the University held its biannual North American Reunion Weekend, during which around 70 Brasenose members and their guests enjoyed a reception and dinner at the Arsenal in Central Park. The dinner coincided with the 2008 North American Reunion, which took place on the Friday evening and during the day on Saturday. It was good to see a range of generations of Brasenose members enjoying each others company and catching up on all things BNC. The Principal, Roger Cashmore, gave an update on College activities and spoke about the 2009 celebrations for the 500th Anniversary of BNC. Amanda Pullinger (BNC 1984) encouraged all Brasenose Members to get involved by volunteering to support the 2009 celebrations. These speeches were followed by coffee and cake, complete with BNC crest!

Fellows' News

- Professor Russell Foster, Senior Kurti Fellow, has been elected a Fellow of the Royal Society.
- Alicia Hinarejos Parga, Junior Golding Fellow, has been awarded a British Academy Post-Doctoral Fellowship.
- Dr Rui Esteves, Fellow in Economics, has been awarded the Zvi Meitar/Vice-Chancellor Oxford University Research Prize.

Several Fellows have celebrated births recently: a son, Nathaniel Keire McKenna, to Dr Chris McKenna, Fellow in Management Studies; a daughter, Tabitha Laura Wills, to Dr Abigail Wills, Career Development Fellow in History; and a son, Leo Benjamin Johnston Herz, to Dr Laura Herz, Fellow in Physics.

We offer congratulations to all of them.

Brasenose Annual Fund

We would like to thank everyone who has supported our first ever Annual Fund appeal. Your generosity has provided more than £230,000 (including Gift Aid) during this financial year, enabling BNC to:

- ✓ improve facilities by refurbishing three staircases of student accommodation (two at the main site and one at Frewin), and by implementing a much-needed programme of improvements to the library's lighting;
- ✓ alleviate money worries for many students by launching several graduate scholarships providing funds for the duration of the recipients' courses, and by supporting any student who falls into financial hardship during their time here;
- ✓ enhance student life by providing grants to the Boat Club for new furnishings and by subscribing to an online music library.

Money pledged for future years will provide a platform for our ongoing fundraising efforts. Our next appeal will be launched in September and our priorities will be to secure unrestricted funds for the area of immediate need, to increase provision for student support and student clubs, arts, and sports, and to raise funds for a programme of improvements to the library.

Oxford University and Brasenose will be participating in the Government's Matched Funding Scheme, which is to be launched in August and will provide matched funds for gifts received from new donors – so we hope that many more of you will want to help us make the most of this opportunity by making a donation to the Annual Fund.

Payroll Giving

Payroll Giving, or Give As You Earn, is a scheme that enables employees to give to any UK charity straight from their gross salary (before tax is deducted), and to receive immediate tax relief on donations. Christopher Harris (BNC 1984) describes his experience of Payroll Giving:

'For alumni who work for companies who participate in Give As You Earn schemes, I think that this is a great way of giving to worthy causes like the College's Annual Fund. It's simple in that, once you have completed a mandate, a monthly donation is taken from your salary at source. But the real benefit is that it's tax-efficient, meaning that, as a higher rate taxpayer, you only pay 60% of the cost of the monthly donation from your net pay (or 80%, as a basic rate taxpayer). The College receives the full amount, and you as the donor are perhaps able to give more than you otherwise might if you donated via a regular standing order. In my case, my donation is also eligible for matched funding from my employer, so the scheme is doubly attractive.'

Payroll Giving provides charities like BNC with a regular, reliable income stream, allowing us to plan ahead. And it's easy to set up – just contact your payroll department and fill in a form. If your company doesn't already have a scheme, you can reassure them that it is simple and inexpensive to set up and run. Please visit www.payrollgivingcentre.org.uk for more information, or contact the Alumni Relations and Development Office by e-mailing development.office@bnc.ox.ac.uk.

A Word with Wendy Williams

Having worked at BNC for 24 years, College Secretary Wendy Williams is looking forward to her 25th year here – coinciding with the College's 500th year of existence. Many of you will remember Wendy as a picture of composed efficiency in her role at the heart of day-to-day college life, but not many of you will know that she has a hidden talent for watercolour painting.

Wendy began painting six years ago when she joined an evening watercolour class, and has developed considerable skill in painting flowers. Three years ago she and Doug Vernimmen, many of whose excellent photographs have appeared in the Brazen Notes and Brazen Nose, began to put on an annual exhibition during Oxford Artweeks, displaying their work in the splendid surroundings of Brasenose Ante-chapel. This year they were joined by several members of Wendy's class and family, including sister Pat Harris, daughter Natalie Williams, and 4-year-old grandson Taiga Kawada-Williams.

Wendy says that she feels lucky to have the opportunity to display her work in the ante-chapel. Asked what she enjoys most about painting, she says it is a relaxing hobby after a stressful day at work – although she affirms that working with the whole range of diverse people at BNC is fun and interesting, even if it does sometimes feel like 'lurching from one crisis to another'!

BNC's Lost Alumni

In advance of BNC's 500th year, we would like to re-establish contact with those alumni with whom the College has lost touch. If you recognise any of the names below and can provide contact details, we would be delighted to hear from you. Please e-mail development.office@bnc.ox.ac.uk or telephone 01865 287275.

BNC Arts Festival

Joe Zhang, Festival Director, reports on the success of this year's Arts Festival:

We said at the start of the year that we were going to be ambitious. We'd have bigger and better events, in every field of the arts. Well, it really happened this year, and the unbroken sun and soaring temperatures that graced Oxford for the duration of Arts Week didn't hurt at all!

The week was, by all accounts, a fantastic success. Aided by the weather, New Quad was packed out day after day with revellers enjoying Pimms, plays and poetry.

The opening night jazz concert was a big band style gig featuring some of the top jazz performers in Oxford, and was a huge treat for BNC students and staff alike. The student classical concert was, similarly, a great success. BNC's top talent gave resounding performances that packed out the antechapel and forced crowds to gather outside in the deer park to listen!

A few last minute drama drop-outs saw our programme thinned, but The Importance of Being Ernest and Zoo Story were fantastic shows that garnered great reviews and sold out day by day. Likewise, the fine arts exhibition was well attended throughout the festival by students, academics, and wandering tourists alike. The addition of Michael Horovitz, a Brasenose alumnus and world famous performing poet, proved popular, and his double act with John Hegley was hilarious to the extreme. They put on a unique blend of poetry, music and comedy in New Quad, with improvised ditties accompanied by Michael's inspirational instrument, the 'anglosaxophone'.

The Arts Festival Dinner and Cabaret was a feast of excellent food and wine, followed by an absolute extravaganza of Brasenose talent. A huge number of student bands nearly blew the rafters off the hall with some electrifying performances.

I don't know of any College Arts Festival that comes close to rivalling what's evolved at Brasenose throughout the years, and it can only get better. I would like to thank the dedicated and talented committee (meet them at www.bncartsfest.com) and all the College staff for their helpfulness and encouragement.

From the President of the Brasenose Society

"The Brasenose Society? What's that?" I asked when invited by Bernard Richards to join the Committee. Over 20 years later, I am delighted and honoured to have been elected the Society's president, the first woman in its 70 year history.

For those who don't already know, the Brasenose Society comprises College alumni. All Brasenose students automatically become life members as they leave College. Once I became a member myself, I gradually realised the unique appeal of the Society. It's a cliché, I know, but it really is like a family: individuals of all ages, backgrounds, personalities, interests - some you like very much, others you don't and most you won't see from one special occasion to the next - but they're always there, and willing to help just because you're BNC.

Over the years, I have made real friendships with people 20 years older than me, and 20 years younger: people I would not have met in any other way. And many have helped me by acting as referees for jobs, shoulders to cry on or much-valued lunch companions!

The Committee dine with the JCR and HCR Committees

Every year, the Society's various social events attract alumni at all life stages. The Vllls Week Lunch is a rare chance for alumni and their families to eat in Hall (even under 5's are welcome!). The Summer Party - a sell-out tour and drinks at the Old Bailey this year - typically draws a more City-based crowd while the legendary Spring Drinks for "recent" alumni are, thanks to Matt Forbes, not to be missed by those under 30!

Even the Annual Dinner - a black tie affair in Hall in late September - is invariably a wonderful occasion with the bar staying open long past its advertised closing time. This year, for the first time, guests accompanying alumni during the Oxford Alumni weekend will be welcome to join us at the dinner and stay overnight in College.

But the Society is not just a social club for old members. This year for the first time we met the HCR and JCR Officers for dinner in the Old Library. We all enjoyed the evening enormously, and discussed plans to re-launch our mentoring scheme. Through the scheme, over 100 BNC alumni have volunteered to give BNC students careers information and advice (though not necessarily jobs!). The Society is also willing to grant £250 a term for suitable College activities or projects.

So, if you're still a student and would like the Society's help, please contact us through the alumni page on the College website or email me direct. And if you are - or soon will be! - a member of the Society, we very much look forward to seeing you at one of our events soon.

College refurbishments

Photos: John Knowland, Bursar

Easter vacation this year saw a flurry of activity as workmen moved in to begin much-needed renovations to the Hall. The eminent Brasenose people whose gazes accompany every dinner - from Alexander Nowell to Joyce Frankland, from Sir Richard Sutton to William Golding - were removed from their high positions and boxed away for a time, whilst the upper panels were cleaned, repaired, and re-varnished in a lighter shade. The ceiling has been repainted, and new lighting has been installed, meaning that meals are no longer lit by the harsh glare of fluorescent lighting, but by the much softer, more ambient effect of LED lighting.

Phase one of the project complete, the portraits were returned, the floors swept, and the furniture cleaned just in time for the Gaudy on 11 April. We have at present a two-tone Hall, with the lower wood panels retaining their dark look. The next phase of the project - due to be completed over the summer - will see the lower panels undergo the same treatment as the upper have experienced, the restoration of the Hall tables and benches, and the installation of portrait lighting.

We look forward to sharing the end result with you, and hope that alumni taking up their dining rights will notice the improvement to the Hall environment. Remember that alumni can dine once a term up to three times a year on Tuesdays and Sundays in Full Term. For more details, please visit the website, www.bnc.ox.ac.uk, or telephone 01865 287275.

The programme of celebratory events for BNC's 500th anniversary is nearly finalised, and we are looking forward to sharing the details with you in the very near future. A sneak preview of the programme reveals a celebratory Tanner Lecture series, an exhibition and reception in the Long Room at Lord's Cricket Ground, a family event in Oxford, and of course the Brasenose Gala Weekend on 26-27 September 2009, coinciding with the University's annual Alumni Weekend. There will also be a programme of international events.

MORE DETAILS AND INFORMATION ABOUT HOW TO PURCHASE TICKETS FOR THESE EVENTS WILL BE SENT LATER THIS YEAR.

The number of tickets available for each event is strictly limited and tickets will be sold on a first-come-first-served basis. Please make sure we have your up-to-date address to ensure that you do not miss out. Keep checking the website www.bnc.ox.ac.uk for more details. Please note that no Gaudies or Brasenose Society events will be held in 2009. These will be resumed after the 500th celebrations.

The contact person for all enquiries relating to the 2009 celebrations is Merry Donati. Please 'Meet Merry' below!

Meet Merry Donati

Merry is joining the Alumni Relations and Development Office, on a temporary basis, to assist in the travel plans and co-ordination of the BNC500 celebration events. Merry will be working part time from BNC where she will have an office next to the Chapel entrance, and also from her home outside Banbury.

Merry's interest in skiing and her sailing background led her into bespoke travel (Small World, CV Travel in London and overseas), and her more recent experience in the conference and events world for RS Live, BNC's partners in the 2009 celebrations, will be invaluable over the next 18 months.

You can contact Merry by e-mailing merry.donati@bnc.ox.ac.uk or by telephoning 01865 277835. She is looking forward to helping everyone plan and enjoy the celebrations.

News from the Library

The Bodleian's summer exhibition, 'Beyond the work of one': Oxford College Libraries and their Benefactors, celebrates the generations of benefactors whose gifts of books have enriched College holdings for more than 700 years. Rarely displayed manuscripts, books, documents and artefacts are being brought together in this exciting exhibition, including a treasure from BNC's library: Edward Lear's Gleanings from the Menagerie and Aviary at Knowle (1846) with lithographs of drawings by Edward Lear, which was presented by the Reverend George Hornby (1789-1872), Fellow 1815-1816 and a major benefactor of the College. The exhibition runs from 24 May to 2 November, Monday to Saturday. Admission is free of charge. Please visit www.bodley.ox.ac.uk for more information.

We are also lending a book to Compton Verney, an award-winning art gallery in Warwickshire, for their summer exhibition, The Fabric of the Myth, which runs from 21 June to 7 September. BNC's exhibit is The Odyssey of Homer, engraved from the compositions of John Flaxman R.A. sculptor.

20 races, 13 bumps

Summer Eights, the culmination of year's worth of early starts, cold, wet outings, and countless erg sessions, was for two of BNC's female crews a veritable triumph, with the Women's 1st and 2nd Vills both achieving blades. St Hugh's W1, Lincoln W1, Linacre W1 and Worcester W1 were bumped by BNC W1, while Pembroke W4, Hertford W3, Pembroke W3 and Jesus W2 succumbed to BNC W2. BNC W3 narrowly missed out on sharing in the glory, bumping Hertford W4 and W5 and Pembroke W4, but not bumping in Thursday's race. Our men's crews fared less well but there were no spoons in sight: M2 fell just one place in Division V (having bumped Jesus M2 on day one, and conceded to that same crew on day two and to St Peter's M2 on day three), and M1 retained seventh position in Division II (after conceding to Wolfson M1 and bumping St Anne's M1). We offer our congratulations to all the crews, but particularly to W1 and W2!

Oxford Alumni Weekend
Meeting Minds: Global Oxford

19-21 September 2008

Following the success of 2007's Oxford Alumni Weekend, this year's event will include over 140 exciting sessions celebrating the part played by Oxford in the 21st-century global community. The programme will incorporate talks on global issues, a look at how Oxford research is impacting the world, and opportunities to have your say at Question Time with David Dimbleby or at the Alumni Open Forum. Alongside these sessions there will be many tours and activities which will uncover some of the hidden gems of the University and revisit favourite Oxford places. For the musically-minded there will be a concert by one of the world's leading sopranos, Dame Emma Kirkby. And for those with children there will be a family programme running parallel to the main programme.

For details about the Weekend, or to book online, please visit www.alumniweekend.ox.ac.uk. To obtain a paper copy of the brochure, please call 01865 611622.

This year's Brasenose Society Annual Dinner is taking place on Saturday 20 September, during the University's Alumni Weekend. Booking forms were sent with the Michaelmas edition of Brazen Notes, and are also available to download at www.bnc.ox.ac.uk.

Update on the BNC Website

We have received plenty of feedback on the newly launched BNC Website, and are looking forward to adding new features and improvements over the coming months. We are currently looking at various software options for the secure alumni area of the site. We'll be reporting back about our progress. Watch this space!
